100 Grant and counting! Recipients

"You are angels on earth," said Giovana Castillo, BloomAgain's 100th grant recipient. BA was able to pay Giovana's utility bills while she undergoes chemotherapy for stage III colon cancer. As a massage therapist, Giovana has been having trouble working consistently due to the Covid pandemic. Her cancer diagnosis on top of an autoimmune disorder has made her very weak and will further delay her work start date. "I did not want to fall behind on my bills. This is a huge stress off me." Giovana lives in Highlands with her 12-year-old son who is helping to care for his mom.

Pickleball Success!

This winter, BloomAgain held its 2nd successful pickleball social at New Shrewsbury Racquet Club (NSRC). The night was filled with music, food, and fun competition. Thank you to pickleball ambassador, Kim Smith, for providing instruction and equipment for pickle newbies and to NSRC owner, Bob Sullivan, for donating the courts!

With more than 80 participants, BA raised $8,000 which will go directly to assisting underprivileged women who can't work due to a medical crisis.

New Strategic Partner

BA is proud to announce its newest partnership with CARC of Asbury Park!

New Board Member

BA welcomes Shrewsbury native Liz Milnes to the board of trustees. Milnes has an Art History degree from TCNJ and is a registrar at the art gallery, Hauser & Wirth in New York. We are excited for her to bring her talents and fresh perspective.
